2.3.1 .A. Experiential Learning

Key components:

Core methodologies: Institute must implement internships, field works, industrial visits and community outreach programs to facilitates real- world learning.

Integrated learning: Use ICT tools, virtual labs and interdisciplinary projects connecting multiple subjects to improving understanding and technical skills.

Reflection & evaluations: The process focuses on reflective observation and actively acting on knowledge, often through presentations, workshops and reports

Objectives

- 1.To bridge the gap between theory and practice, enhance the knowledge retention trough active engagements and foster critical thinking.
2. It aims to develop practical skills, encourage self-reflection, build confidence, and promote personal growth through immersive, real-world experiences
3. It enhances the developing Critical Thinking & Problem-Solving

1. Industrial visit to IMIS pharmaceutical laboratory, 24-11-2025

An industrial visit was organized by the Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry to IMIS Pharmaceuticals, an established Ayurvedic pharmaceutical industry, with the objective of providing practical exposure to students. The visit aimed to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and industrial practices in the field of traditional medicine manufacturing. Ayurvedic industries play a vital role in the development of herbal medicines by integrating traditional knowledge with modern pharmaceutical principles. This visit offered students firsthand insight into the processing, formulation, quality counterregulatory of Ayurvedic drug prod

Outcomes

- Students were able to understand the basic manufacturing process of Ayurvedic medicines in an industry setting.
- Students gained knowledge about herbal raw materials and their processing methods.
- Students understood the importance of quality control and GMP practices in Ayurvedic industries.
- Students learned the application of pharmaceutical chemistry concepts in herbal drug formulation.
- Students were oriented toward career opportunities in Ayurvedic and herbal pharmaceutical industries.

2. Workshop on lab safety & handling of chemicals, 29/11/2025

The program starts with inaugural session with beloved Secretary& Correspondent Siter Nirmala Jyothi, principal Dr. B. Pamula Reddy. Welcome address by Head of the department Dr.S.Padmavathi. Later Dr.K.Sowjanya , Dr.S.Padmavathi delivered the speech on lab safety, how to the handling of toxic chemicals & handling of glassware's, Dr.U.Spandana delivered code of conduct. Finally, we kept examination in that we are given prizes to merit students who performed well. It helps the students to understand about the safety handling of chemicals & reagents. It helps the students to get through knowledge names of the equipment's and glass apparatus how to handle the equipment's.

Outcomes

1. It helps the students to understand about the safety handling of chemicals & reagents
2. It helps the students to get knowledge on the handling of equipment.
3. It helps the students to get through knowledge names of the equipment's and glass apparatus.

3.Field/exposure visit, incubation centre. K.L University 9-03-2026.

A field visit was organized to Koneru Lakshmaiah Education Foundation with the aim of exposing students and staff to an enriching Innovation and Collaboration Session. The program was designed to provide insights into modern educational practices, interdisciplinary research, and industry-oriented innovation.

During the session, participants interacted with faculty members, innovation cell coordinators, and research scholars. The visit highlighted the university's ecosystem that promotes creativity, startups, incubation support, and collaborative research. Students were introduced to real-time applications of their academic knowledge and were encouraged to think beyond conventional learning.

Outcomes:

1. Awareness of Innovation Ecosystem

Students understood how innovation cells, incubation centers, and startups function within an academic institution.

2. Enhanced Creative Thinking

The session motivated students to think innovatively and develop new ideas for solving real-world problems.

3. Improved Understanding of Collaboration

Students realized the importance of teamwork, interdisciplinary learning, and partnerships with industries.

4. Exposure to Startup Opportunities

Knowledge about entrepreneurship, funding opportunities, and startup development was gained.

5. Skill Development

Students improved their communication, critical thinking, and analytical skills through interaction and discussions.

4.Workshop on Molecular Docking Studies, simulations-

23-03-2026 TO 28-03-2026

A workshop was conducted for B. Pharmacy IV/IV students to impart knowledge and practical exposure in in silico studies related to drug discovery and development. In the present era, computational approaches play a vital role in the pharmaceutical industry by enabling faster, cost-effective, and efficient drug design processes.

The program focused on introducing students to modern techniques such as molecular docking, virtual screening, and computer-aided drug design. These approaches help in understanding drug–target interactions, predicting pharmacological activity, and optimising drug candidates before experimental validation.

This workshop aimed to bridge the gap between theoretical learning and advanced research methodologies by providing hands-on training and insights into the application of bioinformatics and cheminformatics tools. It also encouraged students to explore research opportunities and develop skills relevant to the evolving pharmaceutical field.

Outcomes:

- Students gained a basic understanding of in silico approaches in drug discovery.
- Students learned how to use computational tools for molecular docking and analysis.
- Improved knowledge of drug design, target identification, and virtual screening.
- Enhanced ability to interpret docking results and binding interactions.
- Developed awareness of the importance of computational studies in reducing time and cost in drug development.
- Students showed increased interest in research-oriented and interdisciplinary learning

5. Industrial visit to Darwin research laboratory, Vijayawada- 23/08/2025

Darwin research lab is currently manufacturing from 2 units. Darwin Formulation pvt ltd, Andhra Pradesh; Darwin Research and Ayur Pharma, Andhra Pradesh, also service our select quality conscious clients with third party manufacturing facility. With 30 Years of experience as manufacturing pharma under their belt, their products have been well accepted by medical fraternity for their consistent quality and packaging. The students experienced by manufacturing process in the laboratory and evaluation of formulations.

Outcomes

1. Industrial visits are crucial for bringing the gap between theoretical classroom knowledge and practical, real world.
2. Industrial visits provide insights into current industry trends.
3. Enhanced employability: it helps to know current industrial trends, technologies and best practices,
4. Students learn about the complexities of production, material management. And the coordination in large scale.
