REPORT ON THE EVENT

Title of the program: Awareness on Real time Training and Learning approach of Pharm D graduates in Hospital

Date: 03-03-2022

Resource person: Dr. Karthik Rakam

No. of Faculty attended: 23

Objectives:

To make the students and staff aware of the real time handling of Clinical activities and Hospital responsibilities.

Outcome:

Experiential training, such as the Clinical Pharmacy Practice experience, remains integral to the pharmacy curriculum. By serving as an opportunity for students to practice patient care, Clinical practice experiences are an ideal environment for students to fully learn and actively apply the knowledge and skills acquired during the classroom/lecture-based components of their undergraduate pharmacy program. With the guidance of hospital and faculty preceptors, students in Clinical Practice experiences conceptualize the role of pharmacists in delivering effective pharmaceutical care. In the same programme MOU was taken in between our College and Avenida, Hyderabad for carrying out Workshops, Seminars, Conferences and to conduct bridge courses like Pharmacovigilance, Clinical data management, Clinical research, Medical writing etc.,

Reaxys PhD Prize

The world's most prestigious award recognizing young chemists' work

The PhD Prize recognizes the research of extraordinary young chemists and celebrates the very best of chemistry research.

All 45 entrants are given an opportunity to present their research at the PhD Prize Symposium

The 3 winners will be selected and announced at the banquet closing the Symposium

Symposium is held in a different but equally prestigious location. In 2015, it was hosted in Hong Kong

All 45 finalists will be rewarded wide range of benefits including lifetime membership to PhD Prize Club, access to the powerful network of 270 talented chemists and free access to Reaxys and Reaxys Medicinal Chemistry

Each of the 3 winners receives an additional cheque for $2000

Want to have a taste of PhD Symposium?

Submissions for 2021 PhD Prize will open based on pandemic situation

REPORT ON THE WEBINAR

Title of the topic: Innovation and Application of Data analysis in Medicinal Chemistry

Resource person: Dr. Mandar Bodas, Research consultant Reaxys, Elsevier

Date & Time: 7th May, 2021 (Friday) @ 3.00 PM

Number of Faculty attended: 25

Outcome:

All the Participants had an exposure and understanding of the data analytical applications used in Medicinal chemistry. Data-driven medicinal chemistry (DDMC) currently is more or less in its conceptual stages and far from being a routine approach. DDMC can be rationalized as the application of computational (informatics) methods for data integration, representation, analysis and knowledge extraction to enable decision making in medicinal chemistry on the basis of internal and public domain data. The compound structures, activity and pharmacological data from which structure–activity relationships (SARs) can be extracted and compared to guide hit-to-lead and LO efforts.

Medicinal chemistry provides pharmacy Staff and students with a thorough understanding of drug mechanisms of action, structure-activity relationships (SAR), acid-base and physicochemical properties, and absorption, distribution, metabolism, excretion, and toxicity (ADMET) profiles.

REPORT ON EVENT

Title of the topic: Ideation and Proof of Concept

Organized by: Department of Pharmaceutical Analysis, Nirmala College of Pharmacy

Date& Time: 04-03-2022

Number of Faculty attended: 32

Outcome of the Event:

The session was conducted for the faculty and students upliftment in their thought process. Ideas from various faculty and students were presented. This was very useful in understanding the importance of proof of concept. The proof of concept is so valuable because it's a pilot project to evaluate the feasibility of your plan before work begins, similar to a prototype or lean manufacturing "minimum viable product". A POC verifies that concepts and theories applied to a project will result in a successful final product. It was clearly understood for everyone that POCs are the first stage in any innovation journey, and should be relatively quick and inexpensive. Their aim is to help you understand the viability of your proposed product or service, so that you (or your investors) can make an informed decision on whether to commit further funding to develop the idea.

In the same programme faculty has presented their innovations such as Bioplastics, Heart Risk Assessment App, Pill Box, QR code technology in the identification of ADR's and Drug Drug interactions, Herbal Sanitizer, Herbal anti-hyperlepidimic formulation, Robotic Pharmacy, etc.,
